

GAIN IN SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

First Day Shows Marked Increase Over Last Year.

MANY ROOMS ARE CONGESTED

Teachers Vote in Favor of New Three-Mill Levy.

Thousands of boys and girls awoke early in all sections of Lima Tuesday morning and the journey to the various school buildings began. It was the first day of school. Long before 8:30 o'clock the school time for the pupils to meet with their respective teachers, little tots to the high school students were seen happily trudging along the streets, neatly dressed, in the direction of the schools. At the various buildings, teachers reported that the vigor of the mass of students was not quenched by the cool morning. All the buildings were teeming with life, and the instructors expect that regular class work will be in full swing not later than Wednesday.

ATTENDANCE IS INCREASED

As reported to the superintendent's office by principals at 11 a. m. Tuesday, the 13 elementary schools showed a gain of 161 children over the first day's attendance of last year. The largest gain for any elementary building is 79, at the Garfield school. The elementary school showing the largest enrollment is Whittier, with a total of 621.

South High school, however, showed the most unexpected gain of any school, jumping from last year's enrollment of 735 to a total enrollment of 894 at the morning session Tuesday. Figures at Central High were not available but indications were that gains had been made there also. Aside from the central high school enrollment, the gain at all other buildings was 333. The enrollment in the City-County Normal School was 32; last year 19. During this week all schools will observe half-day sessions, as has been the rule in previous years. This time is granted with the view of giving the students more time to secure their books and supplies and the teachers will have the opportunity of handling affairs that the pedagogues experience annually at the start of school.

Tuesday teachers listed the books needed by the pupils in the respective grades and classes were dismissed before 10 a. m. Book stores were crowded all morning and the demand for books and supplies is expected to continue through the week.

Arrangements are being made for the purchase of necessities by the school board for children of indigent parents and members declared that no boy or girl will be kept from attending school because of inability of their parents to provide necessary equipment.

ROOMS TOO SMALL

In many of the buildings the rooms are too small to care for the number of students and the principals are busy solving many puzzles of how to best relieve the congested conditions. After classes were dismissed Tuesday morning, teachers of all buildings went into conference with principals.

Boxes of new pedagogues appeared in all buildings, and teachers and pupils made it a day of getting acquainted. Thirty-two students registered for the city-county normal school, class of which will be organized at Central High school. A number of applicants were rejected, as it was first believed that the limit would have to be placed at 25.

NEW LEVY FAVORED

At a general teacher's meeting Monday afternoon, the instructors unanimously voted in favor of a new three-mill school levy, to be voted on at November elections.

The additional tax is necessary, Superintendent Collins said, to care for the expanding needs of the Lima school system. The present levy voted on in 1917-1918, will expire in another year and a new levy is imminent. The former levy was for two mills. The extra mill this year, Collins declared, is to pay off outstanding bonds.

CANDIDATE FOR STATE GOVERNOR OF KIWANIS ADDRESSES LIMA MEN

Ideals of Kiwanis were discussed at the Lima Kiwanis club's luncheon Tuesday by Judge Roy Williams, South's. Judge Williams is vice president of the Sandusky Kiwanis club and is a candidate for state governor in the convention which will be held here late in September. He urged that objectives be sought by clubs and that they be prosecuted to success. The mayor spoke on the gas situation and asked that a vote be taken to indicate the sentiment of individual members on the course being pursued by the city administration and council. This was done, it being understood that the secret vote represented the ideas of members and not of the club as an organization.

The mayor later announced that the result of the vote was 44 favoring the action of the city; 20 opposed to its action, and 4 favoring it conditionally.

BURNS WILL LEAD PRISONER HUNT

TOLEDO—(By Associated Press)—William J. Burns, chief of the United States secret service, is expected in Toledo today to take personal charge of the hunt for Joseph Urbanis, Charles Schultz and George Rogers, alleged leaders in the $1,000,000 Toledo postoffice robbery of last February 17, who escaped from the Lucas co. jail Monday afternoon after overpowering two deputy sheriffs, according to word received in police circles here today.

No clue has been found as to the whereabouts of the three desperadoes who left jail in broad daylight and then vanished. Police of all the Great Lake cities have been notified and are watching all trains and roads leading from Toledo. Urbanis, Schultz and Rogers who were recently convicted of conspiracy in connection with the postoffice robbery were awaiting trial for the alleged robbery in the same case.

An investigation is being conducted by Sheriff Taylor who has offered a reward of $500 for information that will lead to the apprehension of the three men.

SEES BUILDING BOOM IN WRECKING COMPANY ACTIVITIES ELSEWHERE

That building the country over will jump off with a rush early in the new year is predicted by W. J. Fitzgerald, local contractor, who views the operations of house wrecking concerns in larger cities as a good omen.

Wrecking concerns in the larger cities have been fairly busy thru the summer, as this class of work, requiring common labor, can be done today for half the cost of a year ago.

Firms intending to build, sometime, when the opportunity is ripe, have taken advantage of the situation to get ready. Every building torn down this season, Fitzgerald asserts, means a new one to go up next year.

MRS. MARY BRODERICK REPORTED NEAR DEATH

Word was received here Tuesday by Lima friends telling of the serious illness of Mrs. Mary Broderick, 407 West McKibben-st., at the home of her son, Michael Broderick, president of the Broderick Boiler Works, Muncie, Ind. Mrs. Broderick, who is past 93 years of age, left here two weeks ago to visit her sons in Muncie and had her hip in a fall while at the home of her son.

Her advanced age, together with the seriousness of the fracture, make her recovery doubtful. Her daughter Miss Mary Broderick, Lima has been summoned to her bedside.

PROTSMAN FUNERAL IS TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for John Protzman, 67, who died at the City hospital Sunday night, will be held Wednesday at 10 a. m. at Blue Lick church. The Rev. Mr. Byerly will officiate. Interment will be at Blue Lick cemetery.

Besides the widow who resides at 676 1-2 S. Main-st., Protzman is survived by seven daughters and four sons. They are: Mrs. Day Diehl, Mrs. Luella Cabb, Mrs. Adda Leath, Mrs. Myrtle Watt, Mrs. Amy Smith, the Misses Florence and Margaret Protzman, all of Lima; Frank Protzman, Columbus, and Jesse, George and Dean Protzman, all of Lima.

STOVE PRICE BOOSTING RUMOR NOT CONFIRMED

No foundation could be found Tuesday for rumors which have gone out that stove dealers in general are taking advantage of the gas crisis in Lima to charge high prices for their stoves. A survey showed that stoves have not been marked up since the gas was turned off.

It was found, however, that stoves are selling for the most part cheaper than a year ago. In many instances dealers are simply charging the retail price fixed by the manufacturer.

GAS GONE. WATER COLD. MEN DRIVEN TO BARBERS

Barber shops are noticing an increase in patronage since the gas has been turned off. More men are coming in to be shaved.

One proprietor declared that men do not like to shave with cold water and that many of them who ordinarily shave themselves are patronizing barber shops.

ENTRIES TO CLOSE ON THURSDAY

September 8 is Last Day For Candidates' Petitions.

ASPIRANTS FILE TUESDAY

New Law in Effect—Governing Registration of Women.

Thursday, September 8, will be the final day for filing nomination petitions, J. M. Madigan, chairman of the board of elections announced Tuesday. All petitions must be filed, he stated, at least 60 days prior to the election.

Registration for the election will be held in October. The dates will probably be October 21 and 22.

The power of women in politics is beginning to be a force, as is indicated by a recent law which does not require them to state their age to the registrars. Women are thus spared the humiliation of telling just how old they are. Looks are deceiving and the fashions of today tend to make them more so. It's mighty hard to tell now when they are 18 or 60. All that the women have to do is to tell the nosy registrar that they are more than 21 years of age.

COURT PASSES ON SINCLAIR WILL

Lima Trust Company to Manage Estate For 10 Years.

Construction of the will of the late John R. Sinclair, deceased, wealthy oil operator, was passed upon by Judge H. W. Blachly, Van Wert, Tuesday, handing down his decision in Allen-co common pleas court.

By the decision, Judge Blachly held the trustee, the Lima Trust company, shall control and manage the estate for 10 years, the date to be determined from the time the first property was turned over to the trustee, by the executor. Title vested in legatees subject to be divested by death of the legatees. Mrs. Helen K. Sinclair, widow of Albert F. Sinclair, son of John R. Sinclair, and who was unmarried at the time of the making of the will, is to take care of the income of her husband, who died but a few months after his father.

ASSIGNMENT NOT PERMITTED

No assignment of income or share on final distribution can be made by the persons who are legatees under the will. The excess sum of money received above the apportioned value by the executor is to be made the body of the estate.

Profits received from the purchase and sale of the property are to be made also the body of the estate. The sum of $27,329.48 to be distributed as income.

Both parties excepted to the decision and announced they would take the case to court of appeals. Appeal bond was set by Judge Blachly at $200.

The Lima Trust company filed the action, declaring that since the death of Albert F. Sinclair and his marriage, contracted after the making of the will, they were at a loss to know how to proceed in administering the estate.

MONEY IS TURNED OVER

F. C. Beam, as executor, turned over $27,329.48 as a partial account and the Lima Trust company had $3,685.56 as net income and it was mainly on these amounts the trustees asked instructions as to distribution.

Questions at issue was how much should be paid to Albert F. Sinclair's wife and whether or not the real estate could be sold or transferred by inheritors or passed to legal heirs, without children, or by will.

MAN DROWNED AT RUSSELL POINT

Joseph Schwilm, 55, employed at installing water mains at Lakeview, drowned Labor day while fishing near Russell's Point. The boat upset and death occurred when Schwilm was precipitated into six feet of water.

Schwilm and a companion, Michael Maus, were in a row boat about a mile off the shore at Russell's Point. They anchored the small craft and undertook to fish. In passing bait to each other, Maus lost his balance and Schwilm attempted to rescue him. In doing so the boat overturned. Schwilm was unable to swim and lost his life.

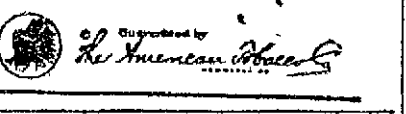

The body was recovered by Frank Gillinwater, a resident of Russell's Point. It was taken to shore by pleasure-seekers in a motor-boat. Later, the body was removed to the mortuary of E. L. Van Horn, Lakeview. Undertaker Van Horn communicated with a niece of the dead man, who resides in Columbus, and with whom Schwilm made his home. She ordered the body shipped to that city, Tuesday afternoon.

present experience," said Arthur H. Anger, treasurer. "In prosperous times the people are careless in purchasing. In hard times they count their money and exercise great care in benefiting by close buying."

He was asked how much difference the cash principle made in the purchasing by the public.

He would not, or could not state. But he did say he was astounded to find in a city a few hundred miles from Milwaukee flour being sold at $1.15 the quarter barrel, that is $4.60 the barrel while in his establishment it was selling on the basis of $11.60 a barrel.

PLAN PAYS DIVIDENDS
Whether the cash and small profit principle is good for the merchant may be imagined from the fact that in the last 42 years the company paid dividends every year but one.

Oliver C. Fuller, president of the first Wisconsin National Bank, the largest financial institution of the state, paid this tribute to Wm. Steinmeyer Company: "Their principles are correct and they cling to them. They treat everybody alike. My relations with them are fairly close yet any goods purchased by wife must be paid cash on delivery. She pays or the goods go back. They the operations of their business and keep costs down to a minimum in all ways have done so."

Fuller was asked for an estimate of the saving of the no credit—no bookkeeping system. He said he was not in position to do so.

Generally speaking there has been an increase in manufacturing activity and an increase in the efficiency of labor. There is possibility of improvement in building lines.

Milwaukee is blessed with a pretty fair proportion of reasonable labor. There is a housing shortage. Public spirited citizens have joined with the association of commerce in a project for the building of homes at the lowest possible cost. Architects and others are giving their services without charge. An amount of study has been given to this enterprise by the best minds of the city that speaks well for Milwaukee. Bankers, manufacturers and others have joined heartily in this undertaking and it looks promising. It seems thru workers will be enabled to acquire well built, pretty little homes for less, over a period of years, than they would pay in rent. There also is a fine project, well advanced for zoning the city. As a matter of fact Milwaukee needs zoning less than many other cities, but it doesn't think so and the zoning will simply add to its already orderly and well arranged layout. The zoning in view has a peculiar regard for the district just beyond the municipal lines. There is a great deal of Milwaukee hat is just outside the corporate limits.

GOOD VOLUME SHOWN
Wholesale and retail merchants report a good volume of business. In other cities purchases are up a last year in quantity but lower in money total. From the appearance of Grand Avenue no one would suppose there was depression of any kind hereabouts. The state fair drew a tremendous crowd to the city last week and the hotels were so overcrowded that many of the visitors had to seek quarters elsewhere, except on one day, that it rained, attendance at the fair was about as good as last year.

There is a pronounced increase in the number of salesmen "on the road." In the Pfister hotel most of the rooms seem to be occupied by salesmen who have their goods on display. Outside of Milwaukee it is much the same as in the city. Summarizing conditions thruout Wisconsin, F. Kull, manager of the Manufacturers Association, says: "There has been pronounced improvement in the textile industry. Food improvement in the shoe industry. The metal trades are way up, perhaps as bad as at any time in depression started. The wood industry is operating now. What days will bring to it I cannot say."

Pulp and paper mills are on 50 to 60 per cent capacity. Construction industries are on 50 per cent but there is more going on than the public appreciates. This is particularly true up state. In one up state town 89 dwellings and 3 large office structures are in course of building. Any one passing thru that town wouldn't suppose there was so much activity.

"The labor situation had to be corrected and is being corrected. For a time labor acted as if it should get 100 per cent pay for 25 per cent production. That is changed. We have a good, sane element in labor here, especially in Milwaukee, and we are making headway."

"There have been sporadic attempts to relieve unemployment by encouraging building possibly thru the use of public funds. There is extensive highway construction under way. This amounts to some hundreds of miles of concrete and more than that of macadam road. This ceases with frost."

Milwaukee has a good agricultural background. While crops in general thruout Wisconsin are not so good as they promised some months ago prices are better. There is a very big butter, cheese, egg, milk and cream industry. This means ready money. The Dairy situation is satisfactory.

CONDITION OF BUSINESS
Here in sum is the production of Milwaukee as compared with a year ago:

Iron, steel and heavy machinery	Pet
Packed meats	35
Motor vehicles, parts and accessories	90
Leather	65
Boots and shoes	70
Knit and woven goods	90
Boxes and containers	40
Clothing	100
Flour and cereals	85
Rubber goods	50
Agricultural implements and farm equipment	25
Electrical supplies	40
Candy and confectionery	75
Costs of production have been reduced from 25 to 35 per cent, and, naturally costs to the purchaser have been reduced that much more.
In answer to a state-wide questionnaire as to what conditions were helping to bring about a speedy readjustment on a new level here were the answers in order of their importance as viewed by the respondents:
1 Low stocks in wholesale and retail hands.
2 Low prices of most raw materials.
3 Tendency of retail prices to come down to wholesale levels.
4 Easier credit position throughout the country.
5 Greater earnings of the railroads.
6 Upward trend of building.
7 Increased activity in textiles, leather and shoes, automobiles and food products.
As to conditions holding back speedy readjustment the answers were:
1 Attempt to maintain prices in certain lines such as building materials.
2 Slow readjustment of wages to prevailing price levels.
3 Disproportionate cost of transportation on bulky commodities such as coal, lumber, sand, iron and steel.
4 Continuance of high level of governmental expenditures in face of a drastic fall in prices.
5 Difficulties in export trade due to dislocation of foreign exchanges and general economic and political unsettlement of Europe.
Milwaukee, Wisconsin, this whole middle west country is better situated financially, industrially and agriculturally than the east, or, at least, this investigator from the east, supposed.
There is not so much depression as was feared. And one thing to remember as Oliver C. Fuller, president of the First Wisconsin National Bank, points out is that a period of depression is really a period of re-education.

ly sensitive nervous organizations and lives, and made them what they were—that what my children needed was not a reform school, but a reformed mother. I tried various punishments, even whipping, but they kept getting worse and worse. I was in the situation, I was in the "edge"—the least thing put me in a rage. I quarreled and had most of my "fusses" with my husband over him as I now look back on them. I was weak to work or enjoy life, and nervous and irritable to go anywhere. I was horribly impatient and I did not get just what I wanted. I was in a constant state of nervous heart palpitation and indigestion. I could not sleep at night. I was in constant dull aching pain in the back of my neck and head, often a very disagreeable sense of pressure in the front part of my head. I often had severe pains in my back, which made me think I had kidney trouble. I also had tender spots in the spine, which convinced me I had permanent spinal injury caused by my nervous condition. I could not do only "a case nerves." I could not begin to describe all the tortures, terrible pains, and great debilitating weakness which I endured. Nobody, not even my husband, seemed to appreciate or realize my condition, and very few feared any pathology, which irritated me all the time.

Finally I went to a doctor and told him my story, what awful children I had, and asked his advice as to what to do with them, and whether or not to send them to a reform school. He studied my case and talking to me and my children, to my surprise and disgust he told me I was the cause of the children's condition; that all my fault, at this I flew into a rage, but after I had quieted down he explained to me the terrible condition of my nervous system, how the system only manufactured fluid of the nerve force, and that so certain of the nerve force, in the cells, much like electricity is a storage battery, and that as like an electric automobile after nearly all been used up, and the crowd thereto, hardly move. I was my own highly nervous condition been a constant drain on the nerve force, and that the constant nervous strain to which I had subjected them had wrecked their high-

Will Draw Trade From Ohio and Other States.

CAIRO, Ill. — (By Associated Press) — The Cairo terminal of the Mississippi Warrior Service (Federal Barge Line) is complete and waiting for the beginning of operations on September 15. It will be used for interchange of freight thru agreement with the Illinois Central railroad.

When two railroad barges arrive from New Orleans the terminal will be ready for business. Two track barges have already arrived from that port.

The barges, which were originally intended for use in New York harbor, are of concrete. They are 256 feet long and 36 feet wide, while guards on the side give the warehouse barges a width of 56 feet.

MOST PRACTICAL DOCK
The terminal will be floating in every detail. The four barges will be lashed together as a unit and moored to a "cradle," which will be pulled up and down an incline as the river rises and falls. This type of dock is said to be the most practical ever devised for river use. The track barges will be a miniature railroad yard as they are large enough to permit switching.

The Cairo terminal will be the upper river transfer point of the barge line during the winter months, as the channel between here and St. Louis is too uncertain during the cold period. In summer it is also expected to be of great value, as it has been found impractical to send the new tunnel-type towboats beyond this point.

DRAWS OHIO TRADE
Establishment of this terminal is expected to draw more business for the line from the Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky fields. A packet has already entered the Evansville-Cairo trade with the announced intention of making connections with the barge line, heretofore impossible because of inadequacy of local facilities to handle small quantities.

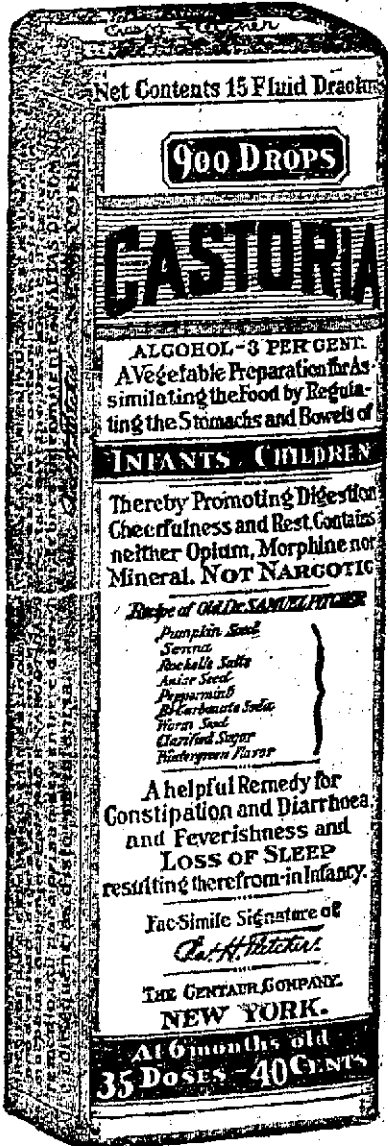

Grain shipments will still be handled thru the Halliday Elevator, which is on the river front. Statements of officials of the line indicate that its business is now the best in its brief history. The towboat Cairo is now en route to New Orleans with the largest tow ever handled by the line, something over 11,000 tons.

The barge line has in service four towboats of the new tunnel-type (screw-propeller)—the Cairo, St. Louis, Vicksburg and Natchez—with two more coming out, together with a number of the stern-wheel

Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, is it necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Of Course You Love Your Baby.

You love it because of its very helplessness, because it can't tell you what is the matter when it feels bad. It can only cry and look to you for help. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. Doctors who know what is safe and best for babies have only good to say of it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how the little one smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. Soon you will learn to depend on Fletcher's Castoria, made just for Infants and Children, and of course you would not think of using anything for them that was not prepared especially for Infants and Children. So keep it in the house.

operation on the Warrior river. Because of the inability of the larger towboats of the line to go beyond Cairo, Elmer Patton, superintendent of terminals, is arranging with local officials to dock the floating machine shop, now at St. Louis, at the municipal wharf.

AEROPLANE IS NOW IN DISCARD

Dirigible Also Passes Out in Whirl of Progress.

HYDRO-AEROPLANE GONE, TOO

Correct Aeronautical Terms Adopted by Committee.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Standard aeronautical terms, devised and compiled by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, have been officially prescribed for use in the Army and Navy hereafter, the new order states, the officers of the two air services will use this regulation nomenclature.

For some time, aerial experts point out, laymen have been calling anything that traverses the air an "airship," whereas the word "aircraft" should be employed. They say, that all balloons, rigid and non-rigid airships, or lighter-than-air craft, are constantly being termed "blimps," a slang word now obsolete, but originally used to designate a non-rigid airship, driven by an engine slung beneath the gas bag. The word "hydroplane," has often been misused in referring to a seaplane; "hydroplane" designates a sea sled, which hangs on the surface of the water but does not take the air. An airplane has been called an "aero," which, it explained, is as wrong as calling a boat a "water." The words, "aeroplane," "hydro-aeroplane," and "dirigible," have been done away with and "airplane," "seaplane" and "dirigible" have taken their places.

AIRCRAFT COVERS LIST

According to the recent published report of the National Advisory Committee, "aircraft" constitutes any form of craft designed to navigate the air and is divided into "aerostats" and "airplanes." Aerostats comprise lighter-than-air craft, embodying a container filled with a gas lighter than air, such as hydrogen, and sustained by its buoyancy, they include "airships" and "balloons."

The word "airplane" is now used to designate craft heavier than air, obtaining their support from the action of the air on the wings and driven thru the air by screw propellers. "Tractors" are airplanes having their propellers in front; "pushers," having them in the rear. Lighter-than-air craft are now called, are divided into three types: "rigid," whose form is maintained by a metallic frame within the gas bag or envelope; "non-rigid," whose envelope is kept taut by the pressure of the contained gas and "semi-rigid," maintained by a rigid or jointed keel and also by gas pressure. These three types are all propelled by gas engines located in a hull or car, or in individual engine houses suspended below the envelope, and controlled by means of rudders and fins.

THE BALLOON
"Balloons," the second division of the aerostat class, have no power plants nor means of controlling their horizontal flight. They include "free," or flight balloons of the old style spherical type; "captive," secured by a cable to the earth; "barage," captive balloons used in forming an aerial barrage, against airplane attacks; "light" balloons, used for observation, such as the Coquelet observation balloon, which has tail fins to keep it headed into the wind; "nurse," a small, heavily fabricated balloon used for storing gas and filling the service balloons; and "pilot" and "sounding" balloons employed in securing meteorological data.

The heavier-than-air types of aircraft now officially termed "airplanes," are divided into several classes according to the number of planes or wings, which are usually superimposed, namely, monoplanes, biplanes, triplanes, and multiplanes. There is also the Langley-type of airplane, which is still called the "landier," from the arrangement of its double set of wings on approximately the same level.

"Seaplanes," airplanes designed to rise from or light on the water, are classified in two groups; "boat seaplanes," having a central hull not unlike a boat, and "float seaplanes," whose landing gear consists of one or more floats or pontoons.

MINUTE MAN SIX

Wins Again at Pike's Peak!

Makes Fastest Claims for Cars of Its Class

A Lexington special with the Ansted engine won first place yesterday in Pike's Peak hill climb for cars in its event and class of 184 to 300 cubic inches piston displacement. Time nineteen minutes, forty seven and four-fifths seconds. Ott Loesche, winner, beat his last year's time by more than two minutes and was only a few seconds behind the winner in the class for cars of larger piston displacement.

Why Not Drive A Winner?

YOU can get the same Ansted Engine, the same unusual range of performance, the same lightning acceleration, the same quiet, vibrationless efficiency, the same ease of handling, and the same dependability, in Lexington's new sport car—the Lark!

§ Last year, against larger and more expensive cars, the wonderful Ansted Engine carried two Lexington specials to first and second honors in the Pike's Peak Hill Climb.

§ This year's victory serves to emphasize the greater power and efficiency, and also the unusual consistency, of Lexington performance.

§ Lexington stock cars with the Ansted Engine have been steadily and overwhelmingly demonstrating their ability to out-perform on hills and straight-aways everywhere. Their economy records are equally remarkable.

§ Let us show you how Lexington, better than any other car, regardless of price, combines all the essentials for efficiency, safety, and economy today.

The Lark comes to you with everything complete; bumper, windshield wings, motor meter, an extra wire wheel and cord tire on each running board, rear trunk and rack. Several optional color schemes enable you to get a car that looks custom-built to your special order.

WOMEN'S MUSIC CLUB OFFICERS PLEASED WITH OUTLOOK FOR SEASON 1921-22.

The membership of the Women's Music Club registers the largest number, at this time of the year, in its history. This is very gratifying to members of the board, who have worked unceasingly thru the summer months, endeavoring to prepare for their members, an interesting program, keeping it up to the standard of former years.

It has been difficult to secure artists this season as the prices have advanced $150 to $300 over last year, the high cost of traveling is the cause and many artists and organizations are not obtainable. However, the year book of the club, just issued, is attractive and offers the best artists before the public. There are several novelties this season.

On October 5th the Little Opera Co. presents "The Secret of Success" by Wolf-Farrari with three dancers of the Ruth St. Denis school and a small selected orchestra, with an unusual stage setting. A most original and interesting attraction, never before heard in Lima, will be the recital for two pianos, by the American pianists Guy Major and Lee Patterson. They have taken the country by storm.

In March comes the great American tenor, Theo Karle, who needs no introduction to music lovers. The Cleveland orchestra, the pride of all Ohioans, under the direction of Nikolai Sokoloff (an American citizen, Russian born) will appear on Nov. 10th. There will be 30 men and 20 Gomey, violinists, will be the soloists. Later in the season the Women's Music Club chorus, under the able and well known director, Miss Southerland, will give an evening concert, assisted by an artist, to be announced later.

There will be nine afternoon recitals. The first, and the formal opening of the club to be Sept. 25th, Miss Mildred Lewis, reader, will give a play, "Polly of the Circus," and a trio, Miss Feltz, Mrs. Dunfong, and Mrs. Dimond, will assist.

There will be two organ recitals. One a Christmas service, when the cantata, "The Christ Child," by Paul Bliss, will be sung with Mrs. Fred Calvert, soloist, and one, a Lenten organ recital.

In November there will be an afternoon of poetry and song. In May one representing periods in musical history, entitled, "Musical Milestones," to be given in costume. The drama section of the club will give two one act plays in March.

An unique idea is the Saturday afternoon program, given for Lima school children of 5, 6, 7, 8 grades, and their teachers and another program upon which will appear pupils of teacher members of the music club.

Year books will be ready for distribution to members at Harman's Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 7th.

DISASTER AHEAD FOR THIS GIRL

Sallie Listens to the Seductive Tongue of Her Married Employer

Is Advised to Leave His Employ and Forget About Him

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a young girl 18 years of age and am a working girl. I am secretary for a married man and have grown to love him. He says he loves me also and is very anxious to get a divorce. He does not care for his wife and seems to be very unhappy when he is with her. I am very certain that he cares for me. Would it be all right for me to marry him as soon as he gets his divorce?

SALLIE

YOU know, without asking anyone, that you are committing a great wrong, and that if this affair does not stop, it is probable a disaster of some kind will develop. You know it is wrong for you to entertain regard for this man.

Do not believe his promises. You do not realize the folly and danger in them. A man who is faithless to his wife, will have no scruples in deceiving another. This man cannot have much principle and certainly does not love you with a deep and sacred love. If you should marry him you would doubtless suffer the same heartache, neglect and humiliation which his wife is probably trying to endure at this time. You know that he has been faithless to one woman. Knowing this, could you ever place your confidence in him? If you have any conscience at all you could never be truly happy with him, knowing that it was thru you his home was broken up and the life of his wife ruined. Besides being faithless and unprincipled, he is lacking the instincts of a gentleman when he discusses his wife unfavorably with outsiders. He is not worth any thought on your part. Forget him. Leave his employ at once if you value your good name and your future. Find new interests, new work and new friends.

Dear Miss Smart:
I am a girl of 16. Would you kindly tell me whether or not it is wrong to use cosmetics?
HAZEL EYES

The use of cosmetics is not a question of right and wrong—it is a question of good and bad taste. A girl of 16 should have a pretty, clear complexion—one which is pleasing and attractive. The use of lip stick and rouge gives her an artificial look, which is most undesirable. If you care to use a little powder, that is different, but refrain from using lip stick or rouge. Its purpose is simply to stimulate youth, which you already have.

BLUEM'S

WANTED - A HUSBAND

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

"Yes, I wasn't very well. Nor very happy."

"Judging from appearances, you must be about the healthiest and happiest person in the world today, then," he retorted.

"Do you know," she reproved, "that your compliments lack subtlety?"

"That's easy. Because I mean 'em."

The native at the wheel made a quarter turn with his head, and shouted: "Set tight. Here's where she gets kinder streaky."

For several frantic leaps and bounds the couple in the back seat preserved the conventionalities. Then came a stretch where an ancient humpbacked vein of granite had thrust itself up thru the road's surface. Miss Cole crossed the car in two bunny-jumps and fell upon Mr. Remsen's neck, thrusting his head against the side curtain with such force as to form a bulge, which several out-reaching trees playfully poked with their branches. As further evidence of her affection, she struck her elbow in his eye, after which she coyly retreated into her own corner by the aerial route. Mr. Remsen assisted her flight by a method known in football as "giving the shoulder." He then rose to explain, settled squarely upon both her feet, and concluded the performance by seating himself on her knees and browsing a moustache from the shelf which was twisted about her hat. Taking advantage of a fleeting moment when the car seemed like a gulf across a bay of mud, they both

Mr. Jacob Remsen, late Rodney, Esq., of Somewhere-in-England, was rescued from his semi-stupor by a broad and bearded alive who approached, and, with a friendly grin, inquired of both parties the via-vis, inquired: "You're the yeh Miss Cole, for under Brook?"

"Both," said Darcy.

"How," barked the native.

"That is, we are both going to Mr. Remsen's."

"Free bus to Boulder Brook," proclaimed the humorous native. "It's as well there's two of ye, tho' Tom didn't say nothing about one's one. Ye won't rattle a much as we hit the rocks."

"I joined the party at the last moment," explained the impromptu hegroom. "I'm for the Bunge."

"Ye'll be there before ye know it, twenty-one mile in twenty-eight minutes, comin' over in the ole st."

The dicarone led the way to "the boat," a large, battered, comically punting car, tucked about with many robes, and applied next to the wheel. Mr. Remsen's kept straying to the face of his companion. His own face wore the expression of one who painfully be the answer to an insoluble die.

"He called you Miss Cole," said men, with furrowed brows.

"Why not, since it's my name?"

"Gole? Gole?" ruminated her companion. "No. Positively no!"

"Positively, yes! Do you think quite gallant in you to forget me, eh?"

"First you say I'm your husband," explained Remsen. "and now you m acquaintance with me. It t fair."

"Haven't you ever seen me be-?"

"Certainly."

arcy almost jumped. "Which I mean, where?"

On the northeast corner of Fifth and Fiftieth street, at 2-30 a September 11," returned the r, as one who recites a well-con- lusion. "You were looking up a aeroplane and ran into me. wore a black-and-white check- suit and a most awfully smart hat, and I stood there gawk- after you until I was in danger- ing arrested for obstructing the ic."

"Why?"

"Because I hadn't seen- ing quite like you since I land- ed I wanted to make the most- poor opportunity."

"Then why didn't you lift your- politely and say, 'How do you- miss Cole?' Like that."

"Because, by Heavens!" cried the- ered Remsen, "I don't know- Miss Cole."

"Think again," adjured Darcy.- says this will help you." She- ned softly a passage of a lull- lling song.

"/it!" he cried. "I'm getting- Gloria Greene's studio. A girl- on the divan while I was- ng. She corrected a change of- l for me. But—you! Never- me that was you!"

"ell—well, but," stammered- en. "What were you in dis-?"

men made gestures and gur- d violent protest. "Not at all!- you were—well, quite differ-

What retort the native might have found was cut off by the persistent trumpeting from around the curve. "Honk-honk! Pr-r-rump! Honk-honk-honk! Pr-r-rump, pr-r-rump!"

"Two cars," interpreted the native. "Ballerin' fer help. I wouldn't wonder. One of 'em sounds like our truck."

"At Meredith," repeated Darcy. In troubled tones.

"There's another couple due from Ashland for the island. All friends of the boss's. Like's not that the other car, that's whoopin' it up down there 't the foot o' the hill. Quite a party."

The gleam of a horrid surmise shone in the look which Darcy turned upon Remsen.

"Do you suppose it could be they? Oh, it couldn't!"

"I'm very much afraid it is."

"Oh, that would be too awful! Don't let it be Maud and Helen!"

"If I could help it, I would," he replied, bracing himself for confes- sion. "I'm sure it is your friends in fact, Tom Harmon told me they were coming."

"You knew it all the time?"

"I did."

"And let me come here without a word of warning?" The girl's tone rasped Remsen's, arousing con- science. She spoke like a hurt child whose trust has been betrayed. (To be continued.)

Women of Middle Age

THE critical stage of a woman's life usually comes between the years of 45 and 55, and is often beset with annoying symptoms such as nervousness irritability, melancholia, heat flashes which produce head-ache and dizziness, and a sense of suffocation. Guard your health carefully, for if this period be passed over safely, many years of perfect health may be enjoyed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted to help women through this crisis. It exercises a restorative influence, tones and strengthens the system, and assists nature in the long weeks and months covering this period. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and contains no harmful drugs or narcotics. Its value is proven by many such letters as these:

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suf-fering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During Change of Life I was in bed for 13 months and had good care, but did not improve. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta-ble Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. That was five years ago, and now when I feel run down and nervous I take the Compound and it always does me good. I wish all women would try it during Change of Life, for I know it will do them good."—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn.

Thomas, Okla.—"I first used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my girlhood days, by the advice of a friend. At the age of 47 I was troubled with dizziness, hot flashes, and became very weak so that I was unable to do any work. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with the result that I felt better and stronger than I have for years. I have also given it to my three daughters, and always with good results. The Vegetable Com-pound is certainly grand for the ills of women."—Mrs. T. G. SWARTY, Route B, Thomas, Okla.

Oilers Lead Opponents Hardily Winning News Trophy

(By FRANKLYN DOAN.)

The Solar track team scored heavily in almost every event on the program and walked away with honors in the second annual track and field meet of the Lima Industrial Athletic association, thereby capturing the Lima News and Times-Democrat silver loving cup. This is the first time the cup has been taken by the Oilers. At the first annual meet the coveted trophy went to the Garford team. The Automakers were not represented at the second annual meet Labor Day.

Starting out by winning six points in the 100-yard dash, the first event, Solar kept on piling up its marks until it had amassed a total of 107 points.

Solar's closest competitor was the Gro-Cords. This industry's only entry was Harry Wooly, who Jones handed scored 12 points and placed his colors in second place.

BEST IN FIELD

The Solar men did their best work in field events. They captured 55 points on the field as compared with 52 on the track. In field events they scored seven first places, five seconds and six thirds. In track events, they annexed seven firsts, three seconds and eight thirds.

The Lima Telephone Co. had a hard fight to hold third place with 10 points. Loco and L. E. W. tied for fourth place with one point each, while Deisel Wemmer finished at the bottom of the list with five marks.

HOGAN IS STAR

Hogan, Solar entry, was the individual star. This lad captured seventeen points of his team's total. He topped one first and four seconds. Most of Hogan's laurels were gained in field events. Shannah, of the Solar team, also featured. He captured the high jump, net saved his most brilliant performance until later. When the pole vault was called he stepped out and skinned over the bar at 11 feet, 2 inches.

Pettier, of the Phones, also made a very creditable showing, capturing two first positions in the 440-yard run and the 880-yard run.

There were quite a few records broken. Seymour hurled the discus one inch less than 100 feet, thereby breaking last year's record by almost two feet.

PELTIER LOWERS MARK

In the mile event, Pettier brought down the mark to five minutes, lowering the 1920 mark by 1:18 1/2. In the javelin throw, Hogan shot the spear 132 1/2 feet. This was fourteen feet farther than the 1920 record.

SHORT SHAVINGS

"Was the last municipal campaign in Chiggeersville a lively one?"

"No," said Squire Witherbee, "I can't say it was as lively as some political fights we've had here in the old town."

"The candidates didn't indulge in personalities?"

"None to speak of. The Hon. Jasper Suggs, who was a candidate for mayor, called the Hon. Cicero Fillkins, who was the rival candidate, a pillager of widows and orphans, a white-livered skunk and a flop-eared hound, and Fillkins told the voters that Suggs was a wolf in sheep's clothing, an a gin-soaked, booze-guzzling political turncoat, but outside of a few pleasant remarks like that it was one of the quietest campaigns we ever had in Chiggeersville."

The older boys were playing marbles. Three-year-old Bobby wished some agate like his brother had and asked father for two cents to buy one with. The money was given to him and he immediately wished to go to the store to make the purchase. So persistent did he become that father said:

"If you don't keep still about that agate I will take those pennies away from you."

"What will you do with the pennies if you do take them away?" he asked.

"Why, I'll put them back in my purse."

"Will you take them uptown when you go to the office?"

"Yes; I will."

After a few moments' reflection, he came back with:

"And will you buy me an agate with them?"

Cleopatra's method

Cleopatra knew this secret. She observed a daily ceremonious cleansing, as the ruins of her sumptuous marble bath testify. The cleansers she used were the same you may have today, palm and olive oils.

For these beautifying oils are scientifically blended in famous Palmolive Soap. They give it mildness, wonderful soothing qualities, profuse, creamy and refreshing lather.

Cleansing with Palmolive is a beauty treatment in itself with no danger of roughness or irritation. No woman should say her skin is too sensitive to use soap until she tries Palmolive.

While evening with its flattering lights is kindest to those whose beauty is artificial, the girl whose complexion is radiant with natural beauty is prettier by day. For the all-revealing sunlight only enhances the charm of a clear, fresh skin. It emphasizes its freedom from all imperfections.

Best of all, every girl can have such a skin. The secret is simple, as you will see when you read what we tell you here.

Stimulate your skin

The tiny pores and cells which compose the surface of your skin must be kept active, or dangerous sluggishness soon results. Accumulations of oil, perspiration, combine with dirt to clog the skin. Then blackheads and blemishes result.

Powder, cold cream or rouge may help conceal this condition but they will not eliminate the trouble. A thorough cleansing every day is the remedy. It will start your skin to working again and help it do its own beautifying. Smoothness and a charming natural color will soon reward you.

After you have washed your face is the time to use cold cream. Then it is very beneficial. Powder and rouge are perfectly harmless if removed before you sleep.

Popularity reduces price

To use Palmolive is not an extravagance, as is that of many modern luxuries. The millions who are using it have helped us reduce the price because they keep Palmolive factories working day and night. This allows us to buy oils in vast volume—another economy.

Wherever you are or wherever you go you can buy Palmolive for 10 cents a cake. The attractive green cake, the natural color of the oils, is within the reach of everyone who appreciates that cleanliness is the greatest beautifier.

Bathe with Palmolive

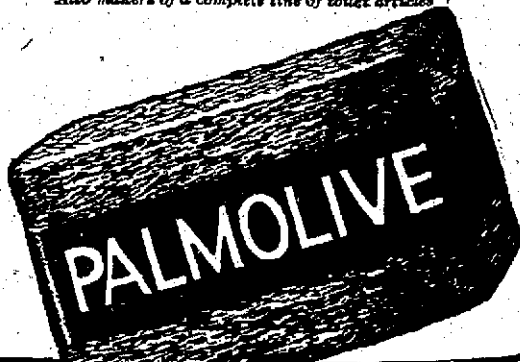

Your daily bath becomes a wonderful luxury if you use Palmolive. At 10 cents a cake it isn't an extravagance—other soaps cost as much.
